Issue No. IX. January 18, 2018

Juan Melián, Principal

Dear Charter Oak Families:

I hope everybody has had a wonderful start of 2018! We are already one month into the new calendar year and life at Charter Oak continues to be as busy and exciting as it usually is.

Despite the natural interruptions due to weather and the holidays, we are moving along nicely, enjoying the immense privilege and responsibility of working with your children and enjoying every opportunity we have to join with our families in celebrating our partnership.

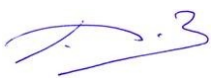
As you might be aware, this year one of our central goals is to continue to make Charter Oak a welcoming and safe school for all. Or as we have expressed, "Create a Peaceful Climate for Teaching and Learning."

Our staff and our parents, through the PTO, have been working on a Belief Statement that tries to capture this goal and our mission, as an IB school, to develop caring global citizens to create a better and more peaceful world. In this Belief Statement, that we will make available to all in the next few weeks, we state that our students, "need a safe, caring, and peaceful school supported by strong partnerships among students, teachers, and families in order to learn and grow most effectively."

The Belief Statement is our starting point for a more comprehensive goal that will include the development of clear and consistent expectations for all, the study of ways of making students participants in a process to solve their problems, and ultimately, the development of a culture in our school that understands that social and behavioral learning are incremental in nature.

During our last PTO meeting I invited our parents to read the book, Raising Human Beings by Ross Greene. Consider reading it yourself so we can all join in a dialogue in the near future that will help us all become better parents and educators.

Stay tuned!



Juan Melián
Principal

Queridas Familias de Charter Oak:

Espero que todos hayan tenido un comienzo bueno del año. Ya estamos en la tercera semana del año natural y la vida en Charter Oak continúa siendo tan ocupada y emocionante como siempre.

A pesar de las interrupciones naturales debidas al tiempo y a las festividades vamos avanzando y disfrutando del inmenso privilegio y la gran responsabilidad de trabajar con sus hijos y de unirnos a nuestras familias frecuentemente para celebrar nuestra colaboración.

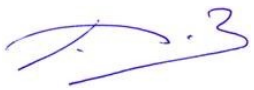
Como quizás sepan, este año uno de nuestros objetivos centrales es continuar haciendo de Charter Oak una escuela cálida y segura para todos, o como lo hemos expresado, "Crear un Clima Pacífico para Enseñar y Aprender."

Nuestro profesorado y nuestros padres, a través del PTO, han estado trabajando en una Declaración de Principios que intenta captar nuestra misión, como escuela IB, de desarrollar ciudadanos globales solidarios para crear un mundo mejor y más pacífico. En esta declaración, que haremos disponible para todos muy pronto, decimos que nuestros estudiantes "necesitan una escuela segura, pacífica y cálida apoyada por una colaboración fuerte entre estudiantes, profesores y familias para aprender y crecer de la mejor forma posible."

La Declaración de Principios es nuestro punto de partida para un objetivo más amplio que incluirá el desarrollo de expectativas claras y consistentes para todos, el estudio de formas de hacer que nuestros estudiantes participen del proceso para resolver sus problemas, y al final, el desarrollo de una cultura en nuestra escuela que entienda que el aprendizaje social y emocional se produce en incrementos.

En nuestra última reunión del PTO, invité a nuestros padres a leer el libro Raising Human Beings de Ross Greene. Considere hacerlo y así podrá unirse a un diálogo en el futuro inmediato que nos ayudará a todos a ser mejores padres y educadores.

Estén atentos para más información,



Juan Melián

News from Español:

¡Feliz Año Nuevo! I cannot believe that we have almost reached the half mark point for this school year! On Monday, January 22nd, our students from Kindergarten through fifth grade who have been taking Spanish will be switching to Chinese and vice versa, those students taking the latter will be starting Spanish. The switch does not affect our pre-K students, who continue with the Spanish language for the whole year. Regarding this grade level, this year we have the pleasure to have Sra. Linda Powers, who is at COIA on Monday and Friday mornings, teaching Ms. Dustin's and Mrs. O'Connell's students. Her classes meet twice a week for 30 minutes each, just like the rest of the World Language (WL) classes.

It has been a busy year thus far, and our Pre-K and Kindergarten students have been learning about the Spanish culture and language through a number of interactive communicative ways, including songs, rhymes, games and books, among others. The focus of these classes has been mainly on listening and speaking skills, as their writing and reading skills in the English language are starting to develop. The topics we have covered included: sharing feelings; greeting each other; using polite words; naming the colors; identifying shapes; counting small numbers up to 10; naming farm animals; talking about season-related vocabulary; naming body parts; and expressing likes and dislikes. Our Kindergarteners have recently learned about family-related vocabulary and they are now presenting their "familia" to their classroom peers.

In first and second grade, our students have also been developing their listening and speaking skills, but unlike their younger counterparts, they have started reading and writing in the target language. The themes have been numerous, consisting of greetings, calendar-related vocabulary, numbers 1 through 30, the weather, classroom objects, and clothing items. Our second graders have also been spending some time learning to talk about themselves and these days, they are sharing their "Así soy yo" mini-books on the Smartboard.

Our Spanish curriculum for third, fourth, and fifth graders aims to enhance all four communication skills (listening, speaking, reading and writing). During these three years, our students engage in activities such as: short skits and dialogs, charades, little projects that they present to their peers, technology based games and activities, and worksheets, among others. The overarching themes for each grade levels are:

- In third grade: "Mi mundo" - it is everything related to their world, including their personal information, greetings and their favorite things. They also learn the Spanish alphabet and review and expand on topics learned in previous years.

- In fourth grade: "Mi dia" - relates to their daily routines, including family-related vocabulary, school, food and meals, their favorite sports and pastimes.

- In fifth grade: "Mi viaie" - covers topics relating to travel such as clothing, passport and personal descriptions, Latin American countries and telling time, among others.

During all these years of exposure to the target language, our students also learn about the culture and make connections to some of the IB Transdisciplinary units covered under their Language Arts, Social Studies and Science. These units include global topics such as weather and the seasons, traditions, communities, currencies, ecosystems, and forms of government.

Language and Literacy Development

Young children learn to speak in the most natural way; through use, over time, and without formal instruction. Oral language development is a child's most natural accomplishment and is the basis for future literacy learning.

Families can help sustain language development by providing environments full of language opportunities. For example, adults can encourage and model how conversations work (taking turns, looking attentively, and using facial expressions). Adults can also encourage interactions among children with a wide range of materials that promote talk and raise questions and the sharing of information in varied situations.

As children begin to have conversations, their vocabulary grows and grows. It is important to foster their word knowledge through the introduction of new words and definitions, or their use within a context that is easily understood. Vocabulary can be fostered through concept and category sorts (fruits, clothing, shapes), relationships (first, middle, last), and opposites (up and down). Adults can have children follow one and two step directions or have them provide directions as they explain how to something they enjoy doing (building a block tower or drawing a picture). When watching TV, adults can discuss what the children are watching, have them guess what might happen next, talk about the characters and how they are feeling, or act out a scene and make up a new ending. When doing daily activities such as cooking in the kitchen, adults can encourage children to name the utensils needed, the foods, their color, texture, and taste; or, when grocery shopping, discuss what you will buy, how many, the size, shape, and weight of different packages.

Having a rich vocabulary supports a strong word knowledge which is the deeper understanding of a word's meaning, its relationship to other words, and how to use it appropriately. This understanding will strengthen a child's overall comprehension of what he/she reads and help them be successful in school.

SNOW FUN!

Happy New Year! Our Kindergarten friends are so excited to be playing in the snow on the playground at Charter Oak. In order to partake in the fun, please remember that your child will need some essentials: snow pants, snow boots, waterproof gloves/mittens and a jacket. Please make sure everything is labeled with his/her name so loose items find their way home. For smooth transitions and less stress for your child, please practice changing in and out of winter gear independently at home. Below is a little "How To" book that some of our friends helped us create. Feel free to use it as a guide at home.

First
Put on your snow pants

Next
Put your boots on

Rethinking School Start Time Committee

Last year, the West Hartford Board of Education directed West Hartford Public Schools to establish a research committee to investigate the challenges and benefits of adjusting school start times. The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP), the American Medical Association (AMA), the Center for Disease Control (CDC), and other health organizations support later school start times because of the positive role adequate sleep has on adolescent mental and physical health. The Board's decision to research this issue is in response to these recommendations.

In the fall of 2017, the Rethinking School Start Time (RSST) Committee, a group of volunteer parents, students, teachers and administrators, began a one-year study of the issue. The committee is examining the impact a change will have on the educational program and is providing the West Hartford Board of Education updates on its work throughout this school year.

One important aspect of the committee's work is to gather information from stakeholders regarding possible changes to the current school start and end times. To that end, the committee will issue a survey for parents, teachers, and secondary school students at the end of February. Remaining open through the end of March 2018, the survey will provide an opportunity to collect important information that will be presented to the Board of Education at the May 2018 meeting.

The survey is one way for stakeholders to communicate their questions, comments and concerns. If you prefer to use email, please direct any comments to RSST@whps.org Please be aware that every Board of Education meeting includes the opportunity for public comments. You are always welcome to attend and address the Board of Education members in person.
